Sunday, Jan 12, 2025*Make no small plans

Let's focus on what it means to be the beloved of God. God would do anything for you: The nearest crucifix underscores what God means by "anything." When such immense love comes into your life, you want to respond in a big way, too. Baptism readies us for the task. Just what happens in Baptism? Saint John Chrysostom says, God sends "the grace of the Spirit," and then "brings us forth with much brightness, renewed, and made afresh, to rival the beams of the sun." Take a moment to consider what you will do with the gift of your radiant new life.

FEAST OF THE BAPTISM OF THE LORD

Isaiah 42:1-4, 6-7; Acts 10:34-38; Luke 3:15-16, 21-22 (21).
"You are my beloved Son; with you I am well pleased."

Monday, Jan 13, 2025*Mystery solved

This month the liturgy draws extensively from the Letter to the Hebrews, which biblical commentators have called the "most elegant and sophisticated, and perhaps the most enigmatic, text of first-century Christianity." In early centuries it was attributed to Saint Paul, but the language and theology are very unlike Paul's letters. After discussing the possibilities, Origen (185-254), the first great biblical scholar, remarked: "But who wrote the epistle, in truth, God knows." That is true of all the mysteries of our faith. But as Hebrews reminds us, "In times past, God spoke in partial and various ways through the prophets," and now he speaks to us through his Son, "through whom he created the universe." Listen to Jesus, and the mysteries of the universe will be revealed.

Hebrews 1:1-6; Mark 1:14-20 (305). "The Kingdom of God is at hand. Repent, and believe in the Gospel."

Tuesday, Jan 14, 2025*How to be amazing

The authority of Jesus comes from the fact that his words and actions are of a piece. People hear the ring of truth in what Jesus says. Indeed, Pope Francis says, "Jesus is the one who brings God to us and us to God." And for these reasons he attracts attention, and people are amazed. If you want to command authority, don't throw your weight around. Rather, speak truthfully, live with integrity, and bring God to others. People will be amazed.

Hebrews 2:5-12; Mark 1:21-28 (306). "All were amazed and asked one another, 'What is this? A new teaching with authority.'"

Wednesday, Jan 15, 2025*What the cross puts into perspective

The image of the crucified Christ signifies not what he can do for us, but what he actually did for us. His willingness to enter into our suffering reveals that God's love is always present. Reflect on the immense suffering Christ bore across time and across the world. As Saint Rose of Lima observed, "No one would complain about his cross or about troubles that may happen to him, if he would come to know the scales on which they are weighed." Pray for relief for your own suffering and, in turn, extend mercy to others so that they may experience Christ's compassion through you.

Hebrews 2:14-18; Mark 1:29-39 (307). "He is able to help those who are being tested."

Thursday, Jan 16, 2025*Daily affirmations

Pope John XXII advised Christians: "Consult not your fears but your hopes and your dreams." In other words, instead of dwelling on how bad things are or could become—whether it is worries about money, family, health issues, your job, or the state of the world—there is something you can depend on: Today is a new day filled with the promise of God's salvation. Take a moment each day to ponder your dreams and embrace the hope Christ brings.

Hebrews 3:7-14; Mark 1:40-45 (308). "Encourage yourselves daily while it is still 'today.'"

Friday, Jan 17, 2025*Faith lives through community

"Christianity means community through Jesus Christ and in Jesus Christ," said theologian Dietrich Bonhoeffer. "No Christian community is more or less than this." Indeed, it is impossible to be Christian alone. Ours is a relational faith. Even when just one baby is being baptized or one class of second-graders receives the Eucharist for the first time, the words, gestures, and intentions of the sacrament benefit the entire church. Jesus did not write a book; he formed a community. Advance that community by actively participating in your parish and opening the door to others.

Hebrews 4:1-5, 11; Mark 2:1-12 (309). "They came bringing to him a paralytic carried by four men."

Saturday, Jan 18, 2025*Step out of the shadows

We now understand that the source of much of our negative behavior lies buried in past events and hidden impulses. The downside of this awareness, however, has been a greater difficulty taking personal responsibility for our actions. Yet, the act of confessing our sins—acknowledging when we've turned from God—is life-giving and draws us out of the shadows of our transgressions. As Saint Augustine said, "You do the truth and come to the light." Keep that light on with a regular examination of conscience.

Hebrews 4:12-16; Mark 2:13-17 (310). "I did not come to call the righteous but sinners."

Invest just five minutes a day, and your faith will deepen and grow—a day at a time
